ISSUE REGULATIONS ON PURCHASE PRICES OF GRAINS, CORN, FATS

GIVES STATE PURCHASE PRICES OF WHITE GRAINS FOR 1951 - 1952 ECONOMIC YEAR --
Belgrade, Sluzbeni List, 4 Jul 51

The new regulation on the crop purchase of designated quantities of white grains which it is compulsory for producers to deliver to the state establishes the following prices, effective 4 July 1951:

The state will pay for wheat and spelt weighing 76 kilograms per hectoliter, 700 dinars in cash and 700 in cash coupons, valid for the purchase of industrial goods at a 65-percent discount; for rye, and rye mixed with wheat, weighing 70 kilograms per hectoliter, 620 dinars in cash and 620 in cash coupons, valid for the purchase of industrial goods at a 65-percent discount; for barley weighing 64 kilograms per hectoliter, 600 dinars in cash and 600 in cash coupons, valid for the purchase of industrial goods at a 65-percent discount; and for oats weighing 40 kilograms per hectoliter, 630 dinars in cash and 630 in cash coupons, valid for the purchase of industrial goods at a 65 percent discount.

The prices quoted are for 100 kilograms net, prepaid at the crop-purchase-station warehouse designated by the executive committee of the srez people's council, or at the railroad car or barge, at the option of the purchaser. Prices are for good, disease-free, dry grain, of a commercially acceptable quality.

These prices are valid only if the grain delivered has the hectoliter weight prescribed above.

If the delivered grain has a higher or lower hectoliter weight than that prescribed, prices will be one percent higher or lower for each percent of higher or lower hectoliter weight.

The established prices are valid only for grain which contains not more than 2 percent altogether of cowheat, an admixture of other kinds of grain (except for rye mixed with wheat), and crushed grain. For every  $\frac{1}{2}$  percent of mixture above the allowed 2 percent,  $\frac{1}{2}$  percent will be deducted from the established price.

Grain may contain not more than 8 percent cowwheat. For every percent of cowwheat above the allowed percentage, one percent will be deducted from the weight of the delivered grain.

For every  $\frac{1}{2}$  percent of impurities, such as sand, stone, dirt, chaff, etc., one percent will be deducted from the established price.

For impurities of a higher degree, such as dirty grain, and grain with a strong smell, up to 5 percent will be deducted from the established price.

For every percent of "ziskom" [smut?]-damaged grain, which will be verified by counting,  $\frac{1}{2}$  percent will be deducted from the established price.

In addition to the above prices and coupons, farm work cooperatives will receive an additional 50-percent payment in coupons, based on the decree which regulates the number of coupons for commerce at tied prices which farm work cooperatives receive for agricultural products delivered to fulfill the crop-purchase plan, and for agricultural products which they sell on the free market.

ISSUE CORN PURCHASE PRICES FOR 1951 - 1952 ECONOMIC YEAR -- Belgrade, Sluzbeni List, 4 Jul 51

The new regulation, effective 4 July, on crop-purchase prices of designated quantities of corn which it is compulsory for producers to deliver to the state prescribes the following prices:

The state will pay for dry shelled corn with a maximum 14-percent moisture content, 500 dinars in cash and 500 in cash coupons, valid for the purchase of industrial goods at a 65-percent discount; and for dry corn on the cob with a maximum 14-percent moisture content, 374 dinars in cash and 374 in cash coupons, valid for the purchase of industrial goods at a 65-percent discount.

The above prices are for 100 kilograms net, prepaid at the crop-purchase warehouse designated by the executive committee of the srez people's council, or at the railroad car or barge, at the option of the purchaser. Prices are for good, healthy corn, of a commercially acceptable quality.

For every percent of higher moisture content the price is reduced one percent.

The president of the federal Council for Commerce, in agreement with the federal Minister of Finance, is authorized, if necessary, to prescribe by month the average moisture content and average price of corn shelled and on the cob, using as a basis the average moisture content of corn in 1951 and the prices given above.

For every percent of damaged kernels above 2 to 5 percent, one percent is deducted from the prescribed price.

Corn which contains more than 5 percent damaged kernels is considered defective.

For every  $\frac{1}{2}$  percent of impurities, such as sand, stone, dirt, chaff etc., one percent will be deducted from the established price.

"Ziska" [smut?]-damaged kernels will be allowed up to 3 percent; for every percent above,  $\frac{1}{2}$  percent will be deducted from the established price.

In addition to the above prices and coupons, farm work cooperatives will receive an additional 50-percent payment in coupons, based on the decree which regulates the number of coupons for commerce at tied prices which farm work cooperatives receive for agricultural products delivered to fulfill the crop-purchase plan, and for agricultural products which they sell on the free market.
